Research Statement

My research sits at the intersection of quantitative methodology and artificial intelligence. On the methodological side, I develop and apply advanced quantitative techniques – meta-analysis, structural equation and multilevel modelling, latent profile and latent change score models, within-person and intensive longitudinal designs, and simulation-based design and power planning.

On the AI side, I study how AI-enabled systems are evaluated, trusted, and integrated into consequential decision workflows in healthcare, organisations, and research itself. My current programme brings these strands together: I examine whether AI-based measurement – in particular large language model coding of open-ended and behavioural data – meets the psychometric standards the field requires, and where machine learning genuinely improves prediction in dense intraindividual data as opposed to merely appearing to. I work methodologically with controlled experiments, longitudinal and intensive longitudinal designs, mixed methods, systematic reviews, and meta-analysis. All materials, data, and analysis code are shared openly to support reproducibility, reuse in teaching, and cross-disciplinary collaboration.

Methodological and Computational Expertise

Meta-analysis and evidence synthesis

Three published meta-analyses as lead author (Journal of Organizational Behavior; Journal of Vocational Behavior; Journal of Medical Internet Research), one further under revision; one published systematic review. Random-effects and multilevel meta-analytic models, meta-regression, publication bias diagnostics.

Latent variable and multilevel modelling	Structural equation modelling (Mplus, lavaan); multilevel and mixed-effects models; latent profile analysis; latent change score models; within- vs. between-person decomposition; measurement invariance testing.
Intensive longitudinal and within-person designs	Repeated-measures and diary-style designs analysed at the within-person level (e.g., Kleine, Schaffernak, & Lerner, 2025, CHB:AH); ongoing work on dynamic modelling of dense intraindividual data.
Simulation-based design and power planning	Co-author of a tutorial on tailored simulation-based sample-size planning for generalized linear mixed models (Pargent, Koch, Kleine, Lerner, & Gaube, 2024, Advances in Methods and Practices in Psychological Science).
Machine learning and data science	Data Science Traineeship (Le Wagon, 2021–2022): Python, SQL, supervised and unsupervised learning, data visualisation. Bayesian modelling (Statistical Rethinking , McElreath, 2023). Applied use of LLMs for text classification and coding, including systematic evaluation of output quality.
Experimental methods	Randomised online and lab experiments on AI-assisted decision-making, including conjoint designs and advice-taking paradigms.
Qualitative and mixed methods	Theory-based semi-structured interview studies, focus groups, framework analysis; integration with quantitative designs.
Software	R (expert; package development, Quarto, targets); Python (expert); Mplus (expert); SPSS; SQL / relational databases; Git and GitHub (expert); $\LaTeX$ (expert).
Open and reproducible research	Pre-registration; Registered Reports (Recommender at PCI RR); FAIR data sharing; reproducible analysis pipelines. BITSS Catalyst since 2023.
Methods advising	Ongoing informal statistical consulting for colleagues since 2019 — design, model selection, power analysis, and reproducible workflows — first at the University of Groningen (including as co-organiser and tutor of the R User Group) and subsequently at LMU Munich.

Academic Appointments

10/2026– 03/2027	Interim Professor (W2), Organizational Psychology (Vertretungsprofessur), Dresden University of Technology, Germany	– Full professorial teaching load and examination responsibility, winter term 2026/27. – Supervision of theses and doctoral researchers; participation in academic self-governance.
12/2025– 09/2026	Postdoctoral Researcher (Bavarian Equal Opportunities Fellowship, own position), LMU Munich, Germany	– PI in international research collaborations. – Develop grant proposals (lead / co-applicant).
04/2025– 11/2025	Maternity / parental leave (Twins born in 2025)
08/2023– 11/2025	Junior Research Group Leader, Human–AI–Interaction Group, LMU Munich, Germany	– PI, Human–AI–Interaction Group (shared leadership with Prof. Dr. Eva Lerner). – Built and managed a team (selection, hiring, onboarding); supervised and mentored 1 postdoc, 2 PhD students, and research assistants. – Reporting and stakeholder management (Volkswagen Foundation; collaborators including MIT and University of Toronto). – Institute-level methods advising: design, power analysis, and reproducible workflows.
06/2022– 07/2023	Postdoctoral Researcher, Human–AI Interaction Group, LMU Munich, Germany	– Research on human–AI interaction in healthcare. – Supervised Master’s and Bachelor’s theses. – Designed and delivered Open Science and reproducible analysis workshops (R, Quarto); trained 100+ students and early-career researchers.
04/2019– 06/2022	PhD Candidate and Researcher, University of Groningen, The Netherlands	– Conducted and published research on entrepreneurship, thriving at work, and students’ career development. – Taught the full undergraduate statistics and research methods sequence (Statistics II, Statistics III, Research Practicum, Academic Skills). – Supervised and coordinated 3 student research assistants.
05/2018– 04/2019	Student Research Assistant, University of Leipzig, Germany	– Contributed to “Thriving at Work: A Meta-Analysis”; supported lab study administration and participant recruitment.

05/2017– 07/2018	Student Research Assistant , Leipzig University Medical Center, Germany	– Contributed to “ Psychological Interventions Targeting Partners of Cancer Patients: A Systematic Review ”; supported recruitment and data collection; presented results at conferences.
01/2013– 11/2013	Student Research Assistant , Dresden University of Technology, Germany	– Supported participant recruitment and research administration.

Education

Ph.D., Psychology | University of Groningen | 2022

- Research focus: Adaptation and thriving through key vocational transitions (student-to-work, entrepreneurship)
- Dissertation: Ready for Change – Adaptation and Development in Dynamic Vocational Contexts (dissertations are not graded in the Netherlands)
- Supervisors: Prof. Dr. Barbara Wisse & Prof. Dr. Antje Schmitt

M.Sc., Psychology (with distinction) | Leipzig University | 2019

B.Sc., Psychology | Dresden University of Technology | 2016

Advanced Methods Training

01/2023–06/2023	Statistical Rethinking: A Bayesian Course with Examples in R and Stan , with Richard McElreath.
12/2021–05/2022	Data Science Traineeship , Le Wagon — data science methodologies and applications (Python, SQL, data visualisation, machine learning libraries).
07/2019	Two-week Mplus Course , Utrecht University, The Netherlands — advanced structural equation modelling.
03/2020–04/2020	Didactics for Teaching Undergraduate and Graduate Students , University of Groningen.

Scholarships and Awards

08/2026	Selected for the Zia-ZEIT Fellowship "Visible Women in Science" — declined due to appointment to an interim professorship at TU Dresden (zeit-fuerx.de/forschung/zia);
07/2025	Bavarian Equal Opportunities Fellowship (own position) (Bayerische Gleichstellungsförderung, BGF), total €61,600
01/2025	Erasmus+ Scholarship for a one-week research stay at UiT The Arctic University of Norway, Tromsø (European Union), €1,300
12/2024	Nominated for the High-Tech Young Talent Award Bavaria

2024	Outstanding Reviewer, Business Research Quarterly
2020	Most-cited article (“Thriving at work: A meta-analysis”) in the Journal of Organizational Behavior

Services to the Field

Ad-hoc reviewer: Journal of Occupational and Organizational Psychology; Scientific Reports; Journal of Medical Internet Research; Business Research Quarterly; Review of Managerial Sciences; Current Psychology; Journal of Organizational Behavior; Human Resource Management Review; Organizational Psychology Review; Scandinavian Journal of Psychology; Journal of Vocational Behavior; Human Resource Management; European Journal of Work and Organizational Psychology

Grant reviewer: Health Research Board (HRB), Ireland: “Beyond the Algorithm: Acceptability and Trust in AI across National Screening Programmes in Ireland”

Memberships: LMU Open Science Center; European Association of Work and Organizational Psychology (EAWOP); Learning Innovations Lab (LILA), Harvard Graduate School of Education; German Psychological Society (DGPs); Working Community of Researchers in Work & Organizational Psychology (WAOP).

Committee Work and Academic Working Groups:

09/2026–current	DFG Priority Program Proposal: SYMBIO: Biosignal-informed Hybrid Intelligence - Balancing Autonomy, Competence, and Performance.
12/2025–01/2026	DGPs Working Group Engineering Psychology: developed statements culminating in a position paper for the special issue of Psychologische Rundschau , “Perspectives of DGPs Sections on the Topic of Artificial Intelligence”.
01/2026–present	Working Group Member , Center for Leadership and People Management, LMU Munich: contributing to guidelines for academic appointment procedures.
11/2023–present	Catalyst , Berkeley Initiative for Transparency in the Social Sciences (BITSS): developing and disseminating open science training material.
08/2023–present	Recommender , Peer Community in Registered Reports (PCI RR): handling submissions, inviting reviewers, evaluating Stage 1 and Stage 2 reports.
01/2020–10/2022	Working Group Member , R User Group Groningen: co-organised workshops and peer coding sessions; promoted reproducible workflows.
11/2020	Teaching Committee Member , University of Groningen: developed teaching and assessment materials for the Research Practicum course.

Session Chair:

09/2024	Navigating Trust in the Digital Realm: Trust in AI and Customer Relations. Symposium, Congress of the German Psychological Society (DGPs) , Vienna, Austria.
---------	---

01/2023 Human–AI Interaction in Different Professional Domains. Symposium, International Convention of Psychological Science (ICPS), Brussels, Belgium.

Hosting international guests:

10/2023 “How does technological transformation interact with the gender dimension? A work activity analysis in two traditional sectors in Portugal”, Dr. Liliana Cunha, University of Porto, Portugal.
